It is the love of riper years that makes the lips of lovers silent. But Kenkenes and Rachel were very young and wholly demonstrative, and they had need of many words to supplement the testimony of carresses. They had much to tell, and they left no avowal unmade.

But at last Kenkenes' voice wearied, and Rachel noted it. So in her pretty authoritative way she stroked his lashes down and bade him sleep. When she removed her hands and clasped them above his head, his eyes did not open.

As she bent over him she noted with a great sweep of tenderness how young he was. In all her relations with Kenkenes she had seen him in the manliest roles. She had depended upon him, looked up to him, and had felt secure in his protection. Now she contemplated a face from which content had erased the mature lines that came had drawn. The curve of his lips, the length of the drooping lashes, the roundness of cheek and the softness of throat were youthful—boyish. With this enlightenment her love for him experienced a transfiguration. She seemed to grow older than he; the maternal element leaped to the fore; their positions were instantly reversed. It was hers to care for him!

After a long time his arms relaxed about her, and she undid them and disposed them in easy position. Lifting the fillet from his brow, she smoothed out the mark it had made and settled the cushions more softly under his

$500 REWARD
FOR WOMEN WHO CANNOT BE CURED.

So uniformly successful has Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription proven in all forms of Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, and Leucorrhoea, that, after over a third of a century's experience in curing the worst cases of these distressing and debilitating ailments, Dr. Pierce now feels fully warranted in offering to pay $500 in cash for any case of these diseases which he cannot cure.

It STANDS ALONE—The "Favorite Prescription" stands alone, as the one and only remedy for these distressing and common forms of weakness, possessed of such positively specific curative properties as warrant its makers in proposing, and binding themselves to forfeit, as the undersigned proprietors of that wonderful remedy hereby do, to pay the sum of $500 in legal money of the United States in any case of the above diseases in which after a fair and reasonable trial of our treatment, we fail to cure. No other medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such remarkable guarantee.

Therefore, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and turn your back on any unscrupulous dealer who would insult your intelligence by attempting to foist upon you some inferior substitute, under the plea that "it is just as good." Insist on having the article which has a record of a third of a century of curing, and which is backed by those willing to forfeit $500 if they cannot cure you.

In cases attended by a leucorrhoeal drain a solution of Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets should be used conjointly with the use of the "Favorite Prescription." They are sold by all druggists, or sent post-paid to any address, on receipt of 25 cents in stamps. Send 31 cents in stamps for Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. head. From the heap of coverings she took the amplex and the softest and spread it over him. Remembering that the wind from the sea blew shrewdly at night, she laid rugs about the edges of the tent, which fluttered in the breeze, and returned again to his side.

After another space of rapt contemplation of his unconscious face she went forth and drew the entrance together behind her.

The next daybreak was the happiest Israel had known in a hundred years. Egypt, overthrown and humbled, was behind them; God was with them, and Canaan was just ahead—perhaps only beyond the horizon. Few but would have laughed at the glory of Babylonia, Assyria and the great powers.

For had it not been promised that out of Israel nations should be made and kings should come?

The march was to be taken up immediately, and in the cool of the morning the host was ready to advance.

Rachel had not permitted herself to be seen until the tent of Miriam was struck. She knew that Kenkenes was without, waiting for her, and with the delightful inconsistency of maidenhood she dreaded while she longed to meet her beloved again. And when the moment arrived she slipped across the open space to the camel that was to bear her into Canaan, but in the shadow of the faithful creature Kenkenes overtook her and folded her in his arms.

"A blessing on thee, my sweet! And I am blessed in having thee once more."

"Didst thou sleep well?" she asked.

"Most industriously, since I made up what I lost and overlapped a little. And yet I was abroad at dawn prowling about thy tent lest thou shouldst see me once again. Rachel!"—his voice sobered, and his face grew serious—"Rachel, wilt thou wed me this day?"

"If it were only 'aye' or 'nay' to be said I should have said it long ago," she answered, with averted eyes, "but there are many things that thou shouldst know, Kenkenes, before thou demandest the answer from me."

"Name them, Rachel," he said submissively, "but let me say this first: Mine eyes are not mystic, but most truthfully can I tell this moment which of us twain will rule over my tent."

"And thou art ready for the tent and shepherd life of Israel?" she asked gravely, but before he could answer she went on:

"Hear me first. So tender hast thou been of me, so much hast thou sacrificed for my sake, that it were unkind to bind thee to me in the lifelong sacrifice and lifelong hardships that I may know. Thine enemy and mine is dead, and Egypt rid of him. There is much in Egypt to prosper thee; there thy state is high, there thou hast opportunity and wealth. Israel can offer thee God and me. Even the faith thou couldst keep in Egypt, so thou wert watchful. And, further, thou art the market's son, and building takes the place of carving for thee now. But here, O Kenkenes, thou must lay thy chisel down forever, for the faith of the multitude, so newly weaned from idolatry, is too feeble to be tried with the sight of images."

Kenkenes heard her with a passive countenance. She gave him news indeed—facts of a troublous nature, but he held his peace and let her proceed.

"And this yet further. Once in that time when I was a slave and thou my master and loved me not!"

His dark eyes reproached her.

"Didst love me, then, of a truth? But it matters not, and yet," coming closer to him, "it matters much! In that time ere thou hadst told me so we talked of Canaan, thou and I. I boasted of it, being but newly filled with it and freshly come from Caleb, who taught us. Then Israel was enslaved and not yet so vastly helped by Jehovah. But alas! I have seen Israel freed, and, attended by its God and by the tokens of its conduct, Israel is far, far from Canaan. I am of Israel and whosever weds with me will be of Israel likewise. It may not be that I shall escape my people's sorrows. Shall I bring them upon thy head also, my Kenkenes?"

"After a little he answered, sighing, 'Thou dost not love me, Rachel.' 'Kenkenes!'"

"Aye, I have said. Thou wouldst send me away from thee, back into Egypt."

"Oh, seest thou not? I would have thee know thy heart. I would not have thee choose blindly. I do but sacrifice myself," she cried, panic stricken.

"And yet thou wouldst deny me that same delight of sacrifice. Can I not surrender for thee as well?"

She drooped her head and did not answer.

"Ah, thou speakest of the benefits of Egypt," he continued. "What were

"From that moment I have been thy wife!"

Egypt without these save a great darkness haunted and vacant? Besides, there is no Egypt beyond this sea. She hath risen and crossed with Israel—all her beauty and her glory and her beneficence. For thou art Egypt and shalt be to me all that I loved in Egypt."

He took her hands.

"Why may I not as justly doubt thy knowledge of thy heart?" he asked softly.

Seeing that she surrendered, he persisted no further in his protest.

"When wilt thou wed me, my love?" She drew back from him a little, though she willingly left her hands where they were, and Kenkenes, noting the flush of her cheeks, the pretty gravity of her brow and the well known air she assumed when she discoursed, smiled and said fondly to himself:

"By the signs, I am to be taught something more."

"Thou knowest, my Kenkenes," she began, "the Hebrews are married simply. There are feasting and dancing, and the bride is taken to the house of her father-in-law. Thereafter there is still much feasting, but the wedding ceremony is done at the home bringing of the bride."

"I hear," said Kenkenes when she paused.

"I am without kindred, thou art here without house. There can be no wedding feast for us, nor dancing nor slaying, for Israel is on the march."

"Of a truth," Kenkenes assented.

"So there is only the essential portion of the ceremony left to us—the home bringing of the bride."

"It is enough," said Kenkenes.

"Hush and Miriam brought me to thy tent last night."

With his face lighting, Kenkenes drew her to him and put his arm about her.

"So if thou wilt we shall say—that—from that moment!"

Her voice grew lower, her words more unready and faltered altogether.

"From that moment," he said eagerly, reassuring her. "From that moment!"

"From that moment I have been thy wife!"

GOOD CAUSE FOR IT

Insurance Investigation Has Not Come a Moment
Too Soon.

PEOPLE NEED FACTS

Legislative Inquiry Has Been Productive of Revelations That Have Stirred the Country.

Further Facts Brought Out Concerning the Enormous Profits of the McCurdy Family.

New York, Oct. 7.—Closing a week every day of which has produced a sensation that has stirred the country, the special legislative committee investigating the methods of insurance companies has adjourned until Tuesday of next week. While other weeks of the hearing have had sensations, no previous week has had a sensation every day as the one just concluded.

On Wednesday, when President McCurdy of the New York Life Insurance company was on the stand, he heartily declared that three quarters of the bills introduced in the legislatures of the states of the Union were black-mailing measures, and on that ground he explained the necessity for maintaining the corps of attorneys. On Thursday counsel for the committee, Mr. Hughes, took another tack and called Robert H. McCurdy, general manager of the Mutual Life Insurance company, and son of Richard A. McCurdy, president of that company, to testify as to the agency system of the company, this feature of the business being under his control. While Mr. McCurdy was on the stand counsel for the committee brought out facts that changed the prearranged course, and the result was the disclosure of the immense profits derived from the commissions of the insurance business. Mr. McCurdy was unable to tell the salary of his father as president of the company, and when the investigation opened yesterday it was expected the president of the Mutual Life would be called to the stand before the day was over. By a misunderstanding, however, President McCurdy had left the office of the Mutual Life before he was called for, and it is expected that he will be the first witness on Tuesday.

In yesterday's testimony the sensational development was when Mr. Hughes demanded the payroll of the executive officers of the company. This was produced and showed the salaries of these officers since 1877. For the year 1904 President McCurdy received $150,000; two vice presidents were paid $50,000 each, a second vice president $17,500, the third vice president $10,000 and the general manager $25,000, who this year will receive $30,000 and the treasurer $50,000.

Robert McCurdy said he never knew the salary of his father until he heard it read in the committee room. He thought, however, that there should be no limit to the salary of such positions, because they should be in accordance with the accumulations of the company. When asked if it was any benefit to the policy holder to increase the president's salary, Mr. McCurdy said he thought the trustees had considered that when they increased the president's salary.

Earlier in the day, when Mr. McCurdy was on the stand, Mr. Hughes tried to bring out why C. H. Raymond & Co. and the partners in that firm received larger emoluments from the business than any other agency. Mr. McCurdy said he did not know what Mr. Thebaud received from the business and had never talked with him about his personal affairs. He said it was a "large reward for large achievements," and that all businesses of large magnitude were built up on that principle.

During Mr. McCurdy's testimony it was brought out that George Raymond, a brother of Charles H. Raymond, was the general agent for New Jersey; that Howard Lewis, the general agent for northern New York, with an office in Albany, was a cousin of the vice president, Mr. Grannis; that Dr. E. J. Moss, the medical director of the Mutual Life, married a sister of the president of the company, and that P. Stuyvesant Pillot, an inspector of risks, is a cousin of Louis Thebaud, son-in-law of President McCurdy, and partner of the Raymond firm. G. W. White, a secretary of the company, whom Mr. McCurdy was asked about, said while he was no relative of any officer of the company, that Mrs. White was a niece of Mrs. Grannis, wife of Vice President Grannis. He knew none of the salaries of these officers.

At one point in the day's testimony much interest was manifested when the expenditures of the company were taken up. An auditor of the Mutual Life, C. A. Preller, was on the stand and he was asked as to the method of recording the expenditures. It was gathered that these were passed upon by an expenditure committee of which Robert Olyphant was chairman. Three entries on the books of payments to Mr. Olyphant of $25,000 each were looked into, but no information could be gleaned. Mr. Preller was asked about the campaign contribution to the Republican congressional committee which was disclosed Thursday, but he said none had come under his observation.

THE PANAMA LID

Will Continue to Be Held Down by Secretary Taft.

Washington, Oct. 7.—The management of the isthmian canal affairs will remain under Secretary Taft, who will go to Panama in November to investigate the situation there and thoroughly inform himself of the conditions in the canal zone. The decision to keep the control of the canal in the war department was definitely reached in a decision that followed yesterday's cabinet meeting. Now that the work is to proceed under his direction Secretary Taft will proceed to Panama, go over the situation in detail and return to Washington about the time congress convenes. Early next week the secretary will take up the subject of finances and decide as to what recommendations should be made to congress respecting the issue of bonds which have been provided for by congress. Secretary Taft will give every feature of the canal administration his careful personal attention.

FOR TARIFF REVISION

This Is the Formal Demand of Massachusetts Republicans.

Boston, Oct. 7.—With only one voice raised in opposition, the Republicans of Massachusetts in state convention declared for a revision of the tariff. Contrary to expectations, the radical wing of the party, under the leadership of Eugene N. Foss of Boston, did not offer a substitute for the plank in the platform relating to the tariff, although in a speech to the delegates Mr. Foss declared that the revision of tariff favored in the state platform was not sufficiently wide in its scope. Mr. Foss said, however, that he and his followers were encouraged at the concessions made to them and that next year they would expect to have the convention accept their proposition in its entirety. A full ticket was nominated, headed by Curtis Guild, jr., of Boston, for governor.

BRADSTREET'S REPORT

The Volume of Trade Still Exceeds Expectations.

New York, Oct. 7.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: While not so active as in recently preceding weeks, the volume of trade still exceeds expectations. Contributing to this are better reports from retail lines, necessitating re-orders of seasonable goods, fall festivals, enlarging crop movement and a continued immense turnover in industrial lines. Complaints as to car shortage increase, the grain, coal, coke, iron and lumber trades all reporting congestion from this cause. Undiminished activity is witnessed in the iron trade, demand for crude and finished products surpassing previous years at this period.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., Oct. 7.—Louis Eberhard, aged twenty-one, was killed in an explosion at the Diehl fireworks plant.

Laporte's Mayor Seeks Vindication
Before Election Which May Mean Much to Him.

Disbarment Proceedings Against Mayor Darrow Adds to Excitement of Campaign.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 7.—With the city in the throes of an exciting campaign, the Republicans and a faction of Democrats are fighting Mayor Darrow, who has served three terms as mayor, because of sensational proceedings brought to disbar him from practice in the courts of the state.

The attorneys for Darrow have made a demand for an immediate trial. The friends of the mayor demand that he be tried before the election and are confident that he will be acquitted and that his vindication in the courts will result in his election for the fourth term. Mayor Darrow, with City Attorney Worden and John W. Talbot of South Bend, are alleged to have paid a Mrs. Harry Duck money to give evidence which resulted in the acquittal of Mrs. Stella Lulla of South Chicago, charged with stealing costly furs.

TRACHEROUS KISS

As Wife Arose to Receive It Husband
Shot Her in the Back.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 7.—James D. Gregg, aged thirty-five, after fatally wounding his young wife, turned the weapon upon himself and committed suicide.

Alleging cruelty, Mrs. Gregg filed suit in the lower court for divorce after having left her husband's home. Later he called and begged her to come back to him, but she told him that she no longer loved him, and his pleadings were in vain. Then arising as if to take his departure, Gregg asked her to kiss him. The young woman arose to comply with his request and Gregg, drawing a revolver, shot her in the back, after which he killed himself. No hope is entertained for her recovery.

Boy Cremated in Barn.
Brazil, Ind., Oct. 7.—The barn belonging to Wesley Lyberge, in Sherman street, was set on fire by children who were playing with matches. All the children escaped from the building except the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyberge. The child's body was found in the ruins by the firemen, all the flesh being burned off the bones. The nineteen-year-old sister of the child heard her brother's screams, but was unable to get to him. Her condition is serious. The mother was away from home at the time.

After Ten Years' Litigation.
Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 7.—Judge H. J. Paulus of Marion has issued an order in the circuit court requiring the county commissioners to appoint a civil engineer and complete the dredging of Rock creek ditch. This ditch was constructed ten years ago, but Della Studebaker filed suit, alleging that the contractor failed to follow the specifications. After being in litigation for ten years, being in the supreme court three times, a decision has been rendered in favor of the plaintiff and the ditch was ordered completed.

Cracksmen Get Money and Escape.
Indianapolis, Oct. 7.—Safe blowers entered John J. Harrison's department store at Clayton, Ind., and with a powerful charge of dynamite shattered the safe, making their escape with about $150. The damage done to the stock, which was scattered over the store by the force of the explosion, will be greater than the amount of money the burglars secured. The safe wreckers fled in a buggy and were reported headed for this city.

OUR TICKET.

The candidates for city offices are now before the people, and we call attention again to the high character of the Republican city ticket.

Mayor G. G. Graessle has served the people for a brief time and has demonstrated his eminent fitness for the office and made great progress in securing an economical and efficient city government. He is a man of sound ideas, honest principles and worthy purposes. He has ability of a high order, energy and perseverance. He is progressive and public spirited and during his entire residence with in our city, has been one of the most active and effective workers for the advancement of all the interests of the community. Under the revised city charter great responsibility is devolved upon the mayor, and it is more necessary than ever that the head of the city government should be a man of ability, sound judgment and force of character. Dr. Graessle meets all requirements fully, and under his administration our city will be guaranteed a good and efficient government and go forward upon an era of prosperity and progress unequalled in the past.

Fred Everback was elected to the office of city clerk by a handsome majority and in the year of his service has been most affable, obliging and faithful in the performance of duty. He was renominated without opposition, as he deserved to be, and holding the confidence and respect of the people as he does, and being both worthy and well qualified we predict his re-election by an increased majority.

James H. Boake, the candidate for treasurer, is a man of mature years, of correct habits and unquestioned integrity, especially fitted for such a trust as that of treasurer. He is a good scholar, a fine penman and an expert book-keeper. He is well known, and all our people can vouch for his integrity, capability and fitness, and feel assured in advance that he will perform the duties of the office with strict honesty and fidelity.

We shall later speak of the individual merits of the Republican candidates for councilmen, but desire to say now, that in Wm. J. Weaver, Hal A. Love, Samuel Hodapp, August Cordes, Joe C. Brown, John Morton and Frank Brethauer, we have a ticket that is not only unmatched but could not be excelled. These men have lived in and about our city substantially all their lives. They are men of integrity, ability and knowledge of the needs of our city. They are taxpayers and men of industry. They are identified with labor, with business with manufactures and with railroad interests. They are representative of all our industries and from their diverse employments and experiences this city will have that wise, collective judgment, which is so much to be desired, and is a guaranty of sanity and safety in the administration of public affairs. The conferences of these men will be a real council, and the results to the city will be a clean, decent and wholesome administration conducted on economical business principles.

Some Seasonable Advice.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by C. W. Milhous.

Intercepted His Wife.

Friday evening while the 4:54 north-bound train was standing at the station waiting for orders a scene was enacted that was out of the ordinary. It seems that Mrs. Emer Loftus had planned to leave home with her baby without the knowledge or consent of her husband. She had the baby checked and then got on the train with her baby. Just then her husband came along and at once took in the situation. He went into the car and made an effort to get the baby but failed in that. He then jerked his wife's purse out of her hand and ran out to the baggage car and got the baby cab out. Mrs. Loftus being left without ticket or money had to get off the train and go back home. What the cause back of this episode was the REPUBLICAN does not know.

Sentenced for Manslaughter. Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 7.—Earl Fredericks was found guilty of manslaughter by a jury in the circuit court yesterday afternoon and sentenced to a term of from two to fourteen years in the Jeffersonville reformatory. Fredericks, with his father, was indicted for killing David E. Lowe in a fight at a picnic in Forest Park on July 4.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 7.—Horace Myers, twenty-one years of age, has been removed to the pest-house with a disease thought to be yellow fever. Myers had been living in northern Louisiana for a number of months and returned from the South this week. He is a son of the Rev. David Myers, chaplain of the Marion soldiers' home.

MAJORITY OF TWO.

Dr. Kyte Defeats Dr. Shields by Narrow Margin.

Much to the surprise and disappointment of many of the old time democratic husters of this city Dr. H. R. Kyte was in control of the democratic mass convention Friday night and defeated Dr. J. M. Shields for the nomination for mayor by the narrow margin of two votes. Kyte received 242 votes and Shields 240. A. N. Menden, a Kyte supporter, announced the result when the ballots were counted. The disappointment of the 240 was sufficient to take the life out of the meeting so that all the other nominations were made by acclamation and with a much smaller crowd present.

Halleck Endaly was nominated for clerk and Silas Schmitt for treasurer.

M. A. Barrick, who was defeated for the nomination for councilman in the first ward, was given the empty honor of a nomination for councilman-at-large. His running mate is E. H. Ahlbrand, who had been considered for most everything all along the line of nominations.

The nomination of Dr. Kyte was a defeat for practically all of the old democratic wheel-horses in this city and another victory within the ranks of his party for F. W. Wesner who was very pronounced in his opposition to Dr. Shields.

STRAY PARROT.

Makes Trouble for a B. & O. S-W. Conductor.

A Mitchell man named Black has filed a charge against F. S. Gilbert, a B. & O. Southwestern freight conductor of this city, commonly known as "Waxie" Gilbert, charging grand larceny. Black says Gilbert took a parrot belonging to him. Hence the charge. Gilbert and his attorney, Alvin Padgett, went to Mitchell Friday morning and made preliminary arrangements for the trial, which will be held one week from Tuesday at Mitchell

Gilbert says he saw the parrot in the B. & O. Southwestern yards at Mitchell on his eastward run, and picked it up. When Seymour was reached the bird got away. Black learned that Gilbert had taken the bird and sent a message to Seymour for Gilbert to return it. Gilbert says he could not well return it as the bird was not in his possession. He learned Thursday evening that the charge of grand larceny had been placed against him and there was a warrant out for his arrest, and he immediately made arrangements to go to Mitchell to meet the charge

When Gilbert picked up the parrot at Mitchell he left word there if any one inquired for the bird, he would return it at once. At Seymour he was trying to feed the parrot when the bird flew away and he was unable to capture it. Friday morning he went on to Seymour in the hope that he might find some trace of the missing bird

Mr. Gilbert is much mortified over the matter, as he was guiltless of any wrong intention. He has an excellent reputation.—Washington Herald

This lost parrot is probably the one that was taken in custody this morning by Mrs. Dr. L. B. Hill. It was perched on the lattice at the rear of her house this morning and she knew of course it was a stray bird so she took charge of it and telephoned the newspaper offices that it was in her possession awaiting the coming of its owner

A Good One.

"The Royal Chef," a musical comedy, which has been having a successful run in Chicago, is billed for the Opera house, Oct. 12. The management of the company have expended a small fortune on the scenic effects and costumes and it is said to be one of the most elaborate productions of the season. There is not too much plot to "The Royal Chef," but it gives a chance for a lot of handsome young women to wear stunning gowns and for the corps of clever comedians to introduce novel specialties. Among the catchy airs which will be sung for the first time in Seymour at this opening are "Tammany," which bids fair to be the hit of the season, "Spin Again," "O'Reilly," "Under the Mango Tree," "Strolling," and "Let me go back."

Botanizing.

About twenty-five of the pupils of the Shields High school went to Mitchell on No. 5 this morning on a botanizing trip. Miss Frances Brannaman, teacher of botany, accompanied them

CRIME IS CHARGED

Chicago Physician Held to Answer for Child's Death.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Dr. Oliver B. Hart, a young physician residing in the suburb of Rogers Park, is in the custody of the police pending further investigation of the death of Irene Klokow, ten years old, which occurred in the residence of the physician. It is the opinion of the police that a charge of murder will be laid against Dr. Hart and that he will have much trouble to escape conviction.

The girl died in a bedroom of the Hart residence, in which she and the physician had been locked for several hours. It is the opinion of the authorities, based on the facts disclosed at the inquest that the girl was maltreated and then poisoned in an attempt to conceal the crime. After finding that it was impossible for the child to recover, the physician swallowed morphine and lay in an unconscious condition for hours, when he was partially recovered and was brought to the city and locked up in the East Chicago avenue police station.

The girl was taken about a year ago from the Illinois industrial home for girls by Dr. Hart and his wife, who desired a girl who would serve in a measure as a companion for Mrs. Hart, who is but seventeen years of age, and at the same time to help work about the house.

The inquest, which brought out no facts other than those stated above, was adjourned until next Tuesday, at which time the coroner's physician, who has made an examination of the body of Irene Klokow, will present his report. The police, however, declare that they will not have the slightest difficulty in proving by circumstantial evidence that Dr. Hart gave the morphine to the girl and is responsible for her death.

Dr. Hart has resided in Chicago but a short time, and is the son of a millionaire residing in St. Louis, who has sent him regularly an allowance of money which has supported him and his wife, as he had no practice in his profession. Mrs. Hart was before her marriage Vera Kriesemann, the daughter of an official in the St. Louis postoffice. They were married when Mrs. Hart was but sixteen years of age. She testified at the coroner's inquest that she left Irene Klokow and her husband alone in the house, but declares that she believes him innocent of any wrongdoing and that in her opinion the statement of the doctor that the girl ate the morphine tablets by mistake is true.

Dr. Lewke, the coroner's physician who examined the body of the girl, declared that there was not the slightest doubt that she had been treated in a revolting manner.

Free to You My Sister

Free to You and Every Sister
Woman Suffering From Woman's Ailments.

I am a woman.
I know as a woman what other women know.
I know women's diseases.
I have suffered as most women suffer, but I have cured myself. Not immediately, not suddenly, but I studied, experimented, investigated, searched the world for a cure for my own woman troubles.

What about your daughter—mother? Is it not your part to guard her, shield her from the exposures and humiliations of office treatment? Is there any real necessity for such an experience? Very seldom indeed. My Home Remedy has saved this dread ordeal to thousands of sensitive girls and young women. Will you not let it save your daughter's pride and modesty? My free ten day's test treatment will convince you that your care for her was wisely taken—and maybe at the very time of all others most necessary to prevent, or cure beginning troubles of the worst character. Shield your daughter—mother. My treatment is not a man medicine—not a harsh drug or vicious tincture, but a pure, powerful, yet gentle remedial agent which cures and has cured thousands of cases of diseases of women—disturbed parts, displacement, enlarged channels, falling of the womb, heavy menstrual loss and clotting, painful periods, scanty flow and sharp, darting pains, dull aches, bearing down feeling, aching groin, whitish discharges and the myriad delicate disorders which bring anguish to our womanhood.

These are the afflictions cured in thousands of authenticated cases by Mrs. M. Summers' Remedy for women—cures which are recorded—cures that keep cured, in fact and in truth. And in every one of all these cases I sent the proof test treatment complete and free, absolutely, every penny of the expense was mine, not one single cent was paid for by any one except by me alone. I will do as much for you, my sister, just as much for you as for any other—no matter who you are, or where you are, or how poor or how rich. That makes no difference to me—my sister.

Give yourself your ailing bodily self the benefit of my doubt, my sister, not the burden of it. For I will make you all your nature should have been—well—happy—robust and plump, with all the color, glow and life of healthy womanhood.
Line from your hand, to tell me where to send it—just your name and the address—and the cure will come by return mail—all sealed and prepaid in wrapper.
Do not hide your womanhood from me and shrink within yourself to suffer and sink down more and more. You must not do that. Only let me hear from you, Do. For I know that you will be well—and can and shall be.
MRS. M. SUMMERS, Box 11, Notre Dame, Ind.

STRONG Again

THE ANTI-CIGARETTE BILL

Has Accomplished a Great Reform in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Oct. 7.—State Senator John W. Parks of Ellettsville, author of the drastic anti-cigarette law, the constitutionality of which is to be settled soon by the supreme court of Indiana, while here today declared that the law is accomplishing a great reform, although it has not stopped the smoking of "coffin nails." "So far as I can find," said he, "people generally approve the law and are asking for its enforcement." Senator Parks thinks there is less respect for the law here than anywhere else in the state, but he attributes it to the decision of a judge of one of the local courts that the law does not prevent an individual from owning cigarettes so long as he don't give them away. "I know that the purpose of the law was to prevent anyone from owning or smoking cigarettes," said he, "and in my mind the legislature understood that to be the purpose of the law. In other large cities of the state the smoking of cigarettes has been almost stopped on the streets and in smaller places it has almost been stopped altogether. From the point of protection to the children the law is working great good, for it has made it very difficult for them to get them."

The Indiana laboratory of hygiene proposes to declare war on the manufacturers of cosmetics that are now used in beautifying millady's face. "The sale of the many cosmetic preparations will be prohibited in the state unless the manufacturers put on them the sign indicating poison—the skull and crossbones," declared H. E. Barnard, the laboratory chemist, today. He would have every dainty box of cosmetics that adorns the dressing tables of the fair ones, and those who are trying to be "fair," labeled with the ghastly, piratical figurehead. "Practically all of these preparations have a large per cent of corrosive sublimate, a deadly poison if taken internally," he said. "The law of the state says that no poison shall be sold unless it is labeled poison. It is highly improbable that the manufacturers will put the sign of the skull and crossbones on the packages and boxes containing cosmetics, but if they don't they can't be sold."

Perry S. Heath, formerly assistant postmaster general and secretary of the Republican national committee, is visiting his brother Fred in Muncie and looking after his real estate and other business interests there. He has not talked politics since his abrupt departure from the national political arena. He is apparently as happy and as smiling as ever. "I like to get back to Indiana, my home state, and to Muncie, my home town," said he. Heath's numerous investments are said to be all turning out well and he is prosperous. It was reported last spring that Heath would come back to Indiana and make his home on a farm in Hamilton county, but he has given up the project and is still residing at Salt Lake City.

President McCrea of the Vandallia, Benjamin McKee, general manager of the same system, E. F. Osborne, secretary of the Log Four company, Volney Mahott, formerly receiver for the Vandallia, and other members of the Indianapolis Union railway, held their first meeting in several months here yesterday afternoon. Plans for a $75,000 addition to the union station were accepted. The work will begin very soon. After inspecting the work on the Belt road President McCrea and his party left for Pittsburgh.

Tragedy of a Farm House.
Middletown, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Alice Ingerick, nine years old, was found murdered in the cellar of a farmhouse near here last night. Her mother, Mrs. Georgia Ingerick, was later discovered in a barn on the same farm and suffering from severe wounds about the head. The woman kept house for Willis and Fred Olney, two aged brothers. No trace of the brothers can be found, and some are of the opinion that they also have been murdered and that their bodies will soon be discovered.

Force in Insurance Investigation
Asked to Come Up Higher.

Scene of Wonderful Enthusiasm
When the Name of Insurance Inquisitor Was Presented.

New York, Oct. 7.—Charles E. Hughes, principal counsel for the committee of the legislature to investigate insurance affairs, was last night unanimously nominated as the candidate for mayor of New York by the Republican city convention in Carnegie hall. The other nominations were Richard Young, Brooklyn, for comptroller, and James L. Wells of the Bronx for president of the board of aldermen.

Former Lieutenant Governor Timothy L. Woodruff was chosen temporary chairman of the convention. Senator Page read the platform, which embraced a denunciation of the Democratic municipal administration, an affirmation of the principle of non-partisanship in municipal affairs, a demand for the passage by the next legislature of laws for the protection of life insurance policy holders, and a more rigid official scrutinizing of life insurance companies, the control of future subways by the municipality, and the establishment of a municipal lighting plant.

Senator Elsieberg in placing Mr. Hughes's name in nomination, said: "I say that in presenting to this convention the suggestion I am about to make, we must have no thought that the man whom I shall name will give time to the work of the campaign. We shall ask no time from him. We believe that the most eloquent campaign addresses that he can make are the questions he is daily putting to the witnesses before him. We insist that whatever the action we may take tonight, it shall not deter him from relentlessly pursuing every evil-doer, high or low, Republican or Democrat."

"It's Hughes, it's Hughes!" the delegates shouted, and then for fully two minutes the convention became wildly enthusiastic. A similar demonstration greeted the formal announcement of the name of Mr. Hughes by Mr. Elsieberg, and the band played "Hail to the Chief."

RESUMES BUSINESS

City of Traverse Back in the Game
With a New License.

Chicago, Oct. 7.—Sailing under a new license, which was granted yesterday by the federal authorities, the gambling boat City of Traverse resumed operations on Lake Michigan today. The old license, which was revoked Thursday because Captain Jones had transferred the boat to the gambling combination without making a record of the transaction in the collector's office as provided by law, was surrendered yesterday to the collector of the port. An effort was made by the state authorities to have Collector Nixon refuse to grant the license and enrollment papers, but the collector said he could find no law which would support him in refusing a license to Captain Jones.
